

Straight To You © Ashley McMillen

I used to think love was nothing but trouble,
Give it time and a heart's gonna break.
I told myself I didn't need anyone else,
But there was something different about you.

When I look back on my life,
When I think back to the tough times,
It makes sense.

Every mistake, every heart break,
Sent me straight to you.
Every tear that I've cried, every lonely night,
Has sent me straight to you.
Sent me straight to you.

I thought commitment was giving up
On every hope and dream I ever had.
'Cause no one ever taught me how to be
In love, until you.

When I look back on my life,
When I think back to the tough times,
It makes sense.

Every mistake, every heart break,
Sent me straight to you.
Every tear that I've cried, every lonely night,
Sent me straight to you.
Sent me straight to you.
Sent me straight to you.

Never thought that I would ever really need someone.
You've got to understand, you weren't part of my plan.
So long ago I gave up on love and
Out of the blue, I met you.

Every mistake, every heart break,
Sent me straight to you.

Every tear that I've cried, every lonely night,
Sent me straight to you.

Sent me straight to you.
It's like you always knew.
Sent me straight to you.
When you found me and I found you.
